FREEDOM HAS 2 WHEELS

The Bicycle

You're going faster than you've ever gone before. No one can touch you. You feel like you're flying! We all remember that moment when we first learned how to ride a bicycle. The invigorating feeling of freedom that we all get from riding a bicycle dates back almost 200 years! Karl von Drais created the "Dandy Horse" in 1817 which is now regarded as the archetype of today's modern bicycle that we all know and love! Learn more about this amazing invention today!

Europe

A photograph of a mountainous landscape. In the foreground, a person with long hair, seen from behind, walks away from the viewer down a paved path. They are carrying a brown backpack. The path is bordered by a wire fence and wooden posts. To the left, there's a grassy field and some utility poles. The background features towering mountains with dark green forests on their slopes and patches of white snow or ice. The sky is overcast with grey clouds.
